

March 29, 2011

Dear Hunter Mill Friends,

We had quite a full agenda for Tuesday's Board meeting. There were plenty of decisions to be made before the evening's public hearing on the Proposed FY 2012 budget. Establishment of an independent review process for the Police department was deferred until this matter can be reviewed by the Board's Public Safety Committee. We also made our recommendation on the names for the new Metro stations coming on the Silver Line.

The Board remained in session until late in the evening hearing from many citizens on the FY 2012 budget proposal. The hearings will continue on Wednesday and Thursday evenings. I am always moved by the compelling stories told by our citizens and value the passion and commitment they make by taking time out of their busy lives to speak. My thanks to all who participated in the hearings and to those who have written and called the office with their ideas and thoughts.

Cathy Hudgins
